

Zotero – how to launch on a campus pc

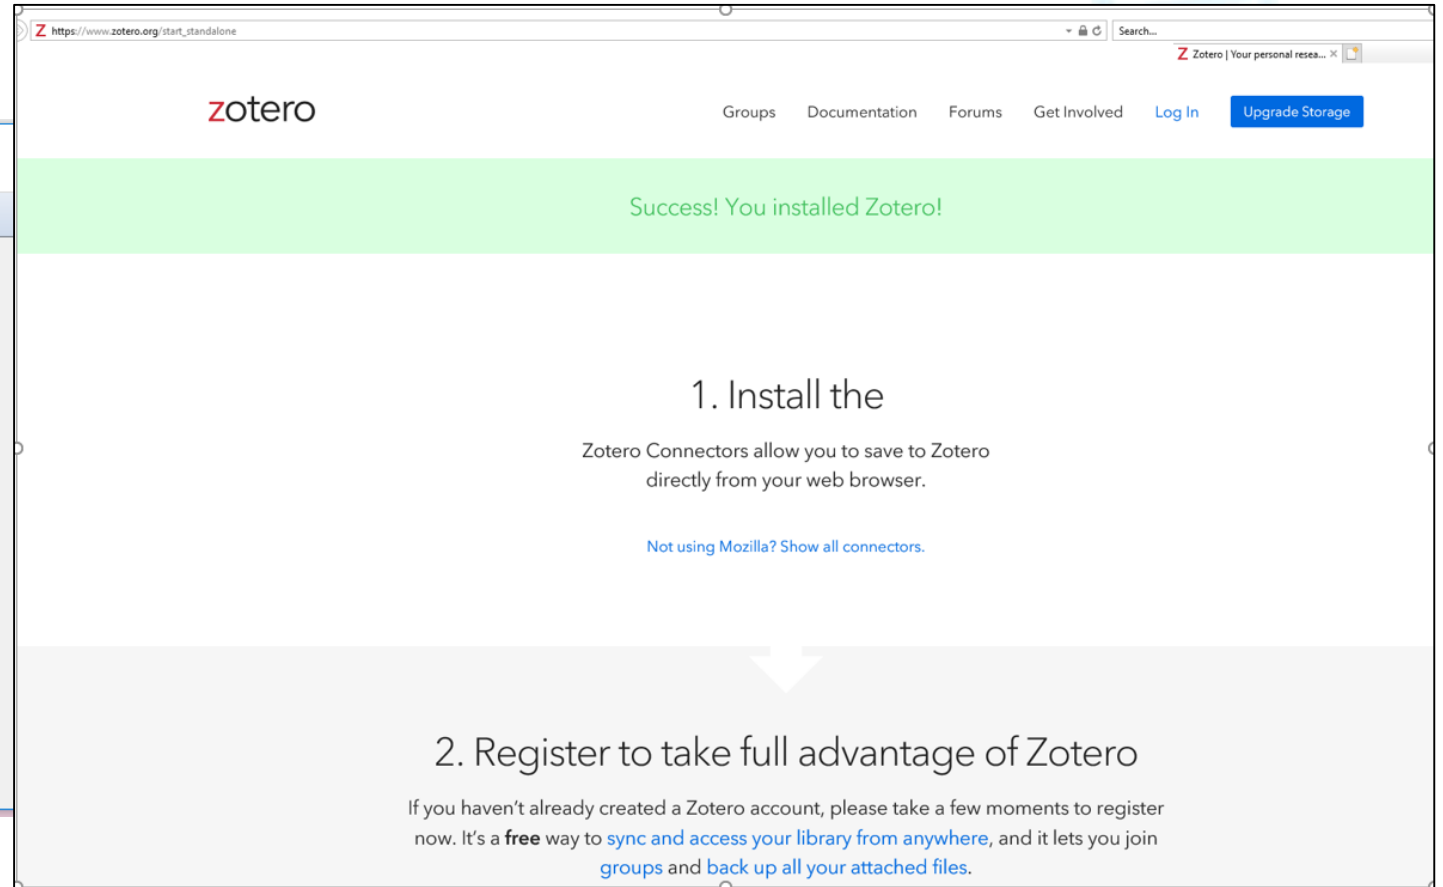

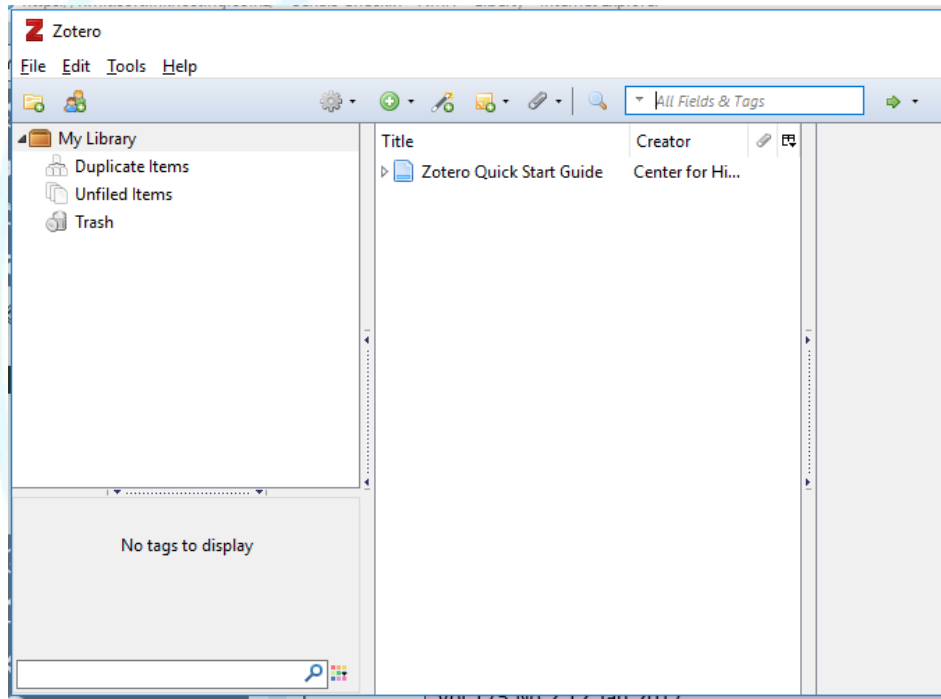

1. Launch Zotero

Search for Zotero from the Search icon at the bottom left of your screen and click on Zotero Standalone.

2. This will launch two windows - Zotero Standalone, and Zotero website via your default web browser*.

*Note, if your default web browser is Internet Explorer or Edge, copy the website url (https://www.zotero.org/start_standalone) and paste into Chrome.

4. On the Zotero website, scroll down to Register. Enter a username, email address and password. This will generate a confirmation email.

2. Register to take full advantage of Zotero

If you haven't already created a Zotero account, please take a few moments to register now. It's a free way to sync and access your library from anywhere, and it lets you join groups and back up all your attached files.

To install the Zotero connector for Chrome, return to the Zotero website window and click on Download, then Install Chrome Connector.

Then click Add to Chrome.

The screenshot shows the Chrome Web Store page for the Zotero Connector extension. The page title is "chrome web store". The breadcrumb navigation is "Home > Extensions > Zotero Connector". The extension name is "Zotero Connector", offered by "https://www.zotero.org". It has a rating of 4.5 stars (1,846 reviews) and is categorized as "Productivity" with 1,697,779 users. A blue "Add to Chrome" button is highlighted with a yellow circle. Below the extension name are tabs for "Overview", "Reviews", "Support", and "Related". An inset image shows a browser window with the URL "science.sciencemag.org/content/339/6121/819". The page content includes the "Science" logo, navigation links for "Home", "News", "Journals", "Topics", and "Careers", and a search bar. A "Save to Zotero (HighWire 2.0)" button is visible in the browser's toolbar.

You'll now see the Zotero Connector Extension at the top right of your browser. This allows you to import directly from the web into Zotero.

Zotero on Word

When you open Word, you should notice that the Zotero add in is showing.

Good to go!

You should now be all set up for using Zotero.

For an introduction to using Zotero, this video has some good tips:

The background is a gradient of blue, from a darker shade at the top to a lighter shade at the bottom. It features several abstract, light blue geometric shapes and lines, including a large curved arrow on the left, a spiral on the left, and a series of parallel lines on the right.
