

Referencing

Use the guides and supporting information below to help you acknowledge your sources.

APA referencing guides

[NMIT printable guide \[PDF, 534 KB\]](#) - A basic guide showing referencing examples for most common sources. See the guides below for more information.

Interactive guide \(Massey University\)\(external link\) - Recommended guide for thorough coverage of a large variety of source examples and information.

[Recommended guide for Nursing \[PDF, 1.3 MB\]](#) - APA guide produced by Ara Institute of Canterbury (formerly CPIT).

[Recommended guide for Social Sciences \[PDF, 333 KB\]](#) - APA guide prepared by Dr Donna Swift.

Chicago referencing guide

Monash University guide\(external link\) - An interactive guide to citing & referencing in Chicago style.

Note: Chicago referencing style is used by Creative Industries. All other students refer to APA guides.

What is APA Referencing?

A brief introduction\(external link\) - Produced by Anthony Levine for the UTSA Judith G. Gardner Center for Writing Excellence.

How do I paraphrase or make a direct quote?

Excellent overview\(external link\) produced by SCCC Library.

APA Style Guide

Essentials of APA style for formatting your assignments\(external link\)

Automatic Referencing Tools

Zotero

Zotero\(external link\) - IT Skills for Students.

Comprehensive referencing and citation tool - Recommended for staff and students engaged in more in depth research projects/assignments.

Word referencing tool

Important tips and information - A useful tool for those with some existing knowledge of APA.

Other automatic tools - things to know

Learn about tools like Citefast & RefME