

Research tutorials

Research skills module

This is a learner managed short course, created by NMIT Library. It provides a step-by-step approach to effectively finding information at NMIT. You will need to 'self-enrol' to access this course. Click on the link below (you may need to sign in to Moodle) then click the "enrol me" button.

Research skills module\(external link\)

Research tutorial videos

Access the full range of our NMIT research tutorials - short videos that take you through the process of starting research and finding information.

Clarifying your assignment task

Choosing a research topic

Identifying search terms

Source types and where to find them

Google and reliability using CAARP

Searching the NMIT Library collection

Accessing ebooks at NMIT Library

Databases - what they are, and why use one?

Databases - intro to topic searching

Databases - refining your search by applying limiters

Databases - advanced search techniques